Chairs, Lounge, Drapes Installed In Women's Hall

Front Rooms to be Used for Informal Parties; Have Piano

The ground floor of the Women's faculty building is gradually assuming the characteristics of a home. Three occasional chairs, a chaise longue of green tapestry, and drapes of monk's cloth at all the windows have already been delivered to the house.

Another recent addition is a hall tree. There is also a piano which is believed to have been left in the house by former tenants.

Carpets, which were ordered over a month ago, have not yet arrived. The delay is probably due to some conflict at the factory, Mrs. Rose Stevens, dean of women, said Wednesday.

The two front rooms are to be used for conversation and relaxation, as well as for informal affairs of the various clubs, according to Mrs. Stevens. The rooms adjoining these will be equipped with tables and library chairs for study. This plan, the dean declared, will afford more comfort and warmth for students during their leisure hours in cold weather than in the library or elsewhere.

Thirty-five persons attended the Art club's block printing party Tuesday evening in rooms 22 and 24. Cuts from linoleum blocks were made and designs stamped on special paper.

Will Present 50 Slides Of European Cathedrals Sunday Afternoon

An illustrated lecture on the Medieval Cathedral will be given by Dr. V. Royce West, professor of English and German, at the Joslyn Memorial Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Paul H. Grummann, director of the memorial, has asked Dr. West to present this subject shortly after he had given a similar lecture in the humanities course.

About fifty slides of European cathedrals will be shown. Over thirty of these have been prepared from photographs taken by Dr. West while studying in Europe.

Dr. West will discuss the symbolism of the cathedral as well as its architectural features.

Ellen Anne Slader Becomes Assistant Secretary To Burke

Will Leave for Washington Dec. 16; Was Active In Dramatics

Ellen Anne Slader, '30, will leave December 16 for Washington to become assistant secretary to Congressman E. R. Burke, of this district who has been active in the campaign to secure PWA funds for the Municipal university building project.

Since graduating from Municipal university four years ago, she has been secretary to Dr. L. O. Denise, president of the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Omaha. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Slader of Fort Calhoun.

Miss Slader was a member of Pi Omega Pi at the university. She was active in dramatics, YWCA work, and was formerly vice-president of Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociology fraternity.

"Miss Slader was an excellent student," commented Irwin A. Hammer, "superior to most of her fellow-students in scholarship. She always manages to have a good time wherever she goes."

Mrs. Gearhart Speaks On Literature Before Unl. History Fraternity

PLAN GALA SHOW

Four new Student Council members will be named by students at an election to be held in the men's faculty building Wednesday, January 10, it was decided at a council meeting in room 17 Wednesday noon.

One representative from each class is to be chosen. Women will be elected from the freshmen and junior classes while men will be selected from the sophomore and senior classes. The terms of Bill Wood, Richard O'Brien, Ruth Wigton, and Eleanor Kirkpatrick are over at the end of the present semester.

Gala Day Election Soon

Following a discussion of possible ways of financing the annual Gala Day show and the division of the profits, President Woodrow Tietz appointed a committee consisting of Bill Wood, chairman, Franklin Buxton, and Minette Myers to study the matter. They are to submit their findings at a meeting of the council Wednesday, January 3.

The election of the Gala Day committee will be held shortly after the beginning of the second semester, it was decided.

Card Basket Team Given Good Scare By Doane Quintet

Tigers Rally In Final Four Minutes But Lose, 35 to 33

BY PAUL LANGE

Doane college almost spoiled Omaha university's opening basket ball game Wednesday night at Central High by staging a determined rally in the last four minutes of the contest that came near overtaking the Omahans' seemingly safe lead. The final count was 35 to 33.

The Tiger quintet took the lead at the start of the game and managed to head the Omaha basket tossers by a slim margin throughout the first half. In the first ten minutes of the second half, the Cardinals came from behind a 14-to-12 count and rang up 17 points while Doane was chalking up but six points. The Omaha hoopers had a 35-to-27 lead when Doane began its rally in the fading moments of the tussle.

Monday the Omaha basketball team traveled to Storm Lake, Ia., for a game with Buena Vista. Last year the Cardinals won a doubleheader from the Iowans but had a tough time taking the second encounter at Storm Lake.

Plans are indefinite as yet, but the programs may be given over a different station at the beginning of the new year, he added.

Students Must Face Economic Problems Dr. Irwin Declares

Charges Bankers, Business Men With Retarding Recovery

The necessity for students to take an active interest in solving social, economic, and political problems was stressed by Dr. Will Irwin, head of the Washburn college economics department, in an address before Municipal university students at Jacob's Hall Monday morning.

"Students must face these problems and take an interest in them," he said. "Those who do not do this have no business in college."

Dr. Irwin charged business men with using every conceivable scheme in the world to get around the NEA and "big bankers" as having gone on a strike, crippling heavy industry by refusing to make loans.

"System Based On Greed"

"The purpose of the Roosevelt recovery program," he said, "is to restore the purchasing power of two important groups, laborers and farmers. However, we dislike the means that are being used to carry this out we cannot very well oppose the spirit behind it all."

Our economic system is based on "greed" and nothing has been done to remove the core of the problem, the profit system, he said.

"The successful working out of the Roosevelt recovery program depends upon the stimulation of consumer spending, a revival of bank credit, and honest acceptance of the program by business men," Dr. Irwin said.

We have decided that our economic system needs rebuilding and are now

Valuable Source Material Among 20,000 Volumes

Many Records of U. S. And Iowa State Governments

OLD MAGAZINES

By HOWARD WILCOX

Twenty-thousand valuable documents and periodicals are being added to the University of Omaha library due to the acquisition of the complete library of Tabor college. The regents approved the transaction Thursday morning.

About two-thousand of the books in the collection will be added to the Municipal university library immediately. At present the University library contains but 13,000 volumes.

Tabor college, founded in 1857, was one of the oldest educational institutions in the middle west, but it has not been operating since 1927. Municipal University has been trying for some time to buy the college library.

Old Government Reports

"This library contains government documents and bound periodicals of great value," explains Dr. Edgar A. Holt, dean of the university. "Most universities spend years in acquiring such a collection as we have received by a single stroke of the pen."

There are old copies of the Con-

Labor Union Head Endorses Municipal U. Building Proposal

In Letter To World-Herald Tells Advantages Of Project

The Municipal university building project will give 500 building mechanics and laborers work for over six months Ernest B. Bowerman, president of the Carpenters' District Council said in a letter to the Omaha World-Herald which appeared in Tuesday's edition.

"The Omaha Central Labor union and its affiliated unions have endorsed this proposed plan," Mr. Bowerman declared. "I have talked to many prominent men and women and have yet to find one who is opposed to the plan of making the University of Omaha something we will be proud of, something which will take care of the future needs of our children."

Little Additional Cost

Mr. Bowerman asserted that the new buildings will only require a one-tenth mill increase in the present tax levy as the cost of maintaining new buildings will be no more than at the present time, with buildings scattered wherever they can be rented.

"Can you imagine getting an eight gift of more than 100 thousand dollars and the interest secured at a low rate of interest over a long term of years as it is proposed in this case?"

The University gives an opportunity to people who have not the means to go away to school to gain other locality, Mr. Bowerman wrote.

THE NEW BUILDINGS

THE students who wrote the letter in last week's Gateway entitled "Dissatisfied With Building Plans" made some excellent suggestions along with one or two bad ones. But we believe it is too late for anything to be done about them save in the case of securing an adequate campus and the women's buildings.

The latter is not to be included in the PWA building project and probably will not be built for a decade. We must admit, however, that it does look a bit out of line that a women's building is to be of the same size and construction as the liberal arts building. The arts building, along with the library, is the heart of a university. A university is built around these two buildings.

Placing home economics and physical education (subjects to be taught in the women's building) on the same plane as those to be found in the arts building does seem unreasonable. We feel, however, that we are acquainted with the administration well enough to know that they have no such purpose in mind. When the women's building is finally erected it will benefit its importance in student life and not one bit more.

Securing an adequate campus for the new buildings is a difficult task. Plenty of ground must be had to erect buildings and provide for future growth. But the University must be so located that it will be easily accessible from all parts of the city. We can safely say that there is not a possible campus site in the city that meets these two requirements. This means that one or the other must be sacrificed. The regents and administration are well acquainted with this problem and we need not fear that they will sacrifice the best interests of the University or the city of Omaha.

The interlocking plan for buildings, beginning with the medical and dental buildings, is a good suggestion. As we understand, however, the new buildings are in keeping with the latest in modern construction. Incidentally, the state capital cost ten million dollars, while Judyn Memorial and the Union station both cost over three million. The regents have but 900 thousand dollars at their disposal to erect four buildings.

A contest calling for leading architects to submit plans for the new University would work well enough under ordinary circumstances. At this time, however, speed is necessary. The PWA was set up to speed building construction in order to provide employment during the winter. Those who submit projects first stand the best chance of securing the board's approval. Already the state of Nebraska is 23 per cent over its quota and the Municipal university project has not been approved. Any further delay on the part of the regents would have resulted in killing the project.

The proposal for a series of tunnels connecting the buildings is out of place, we believe. The cost of such a venture would be stupendous; it would probably require the entire 900 thousand dollars. Hospitals, and homes for invalids and the aged, have made use of this principle but we do not believe that University students fall into this classification.

The proposal for a football stadium is nearly as wild-eyed as the suggestion concerning tunnels. Only in cases where tens of thousands of people are expected to attend games, regularly is a bowl form of stadium built. The PWA building project does not call for the erection of a stadium of any kind. We might build a university before we commence worrying where the football team will play. After all, the football team is only an incidental part of the University.

The tendency to erect stadiums that dwarf the remainder of the campus has already resulted in scathing, well-directed criticism of American universities. Let us first build a gymnasium that will take care of the athletic needs of the entire student body rather than the select few who are adept at the game of football. The proposed new buildings call for an athletic field. Wooden

STUDENT FORUM

To the Editor:

It seems an obvious solution to securing that rare privilege of masculine independency of appearing at a university dance less a lady, is to become a member of the football elect.

In short, let rules governing social functions be applied to all if they are applied to any.

15000 People Hear 311 Speeches By Faculty

According to an informal report to the director of Publicity, E. M. Hosman, 22 members of the faculty made more than 311 speeches before business organizations, clubs, and fraternities last year with a total estimated audience of 15,000 people.

"Faculty members generally are glad to render this service", said Mr. Hosman, "but few people aside from those accustomed to speaking in public, really understand the work involved in preparing and giving a public address."

stands can be erected here to take care of football crowds at Municipal university games for some time to come.

Some day Municipal university will erect a stadium that will accommodate several thousand people and will be used by the city of Omaha as well as for athletic events. By that time the University will have become well established and have taken its rightful place in mid-western university life. We will then be able to gauge much better the university's needs for a stadium, women's buildings, and tunnels between buildings.

Golf Team to Meet Iowa State College Again Next Season

Find Another Home Course For the Match, Urges Cyclone Coach

The 1934 golf team has already scheduled home and home matches with Iowa State college, although no definite dates have been arranged for the matches.

In a letter to Bob Anthes, golf team correspondent, Hugo Otopalik, head coach at Iowa State, said he wanted to play Omaha again next year, but hoped the match here would be played on a different course. The match at Omaha last year was played at Dundee.

Last season the Cyclone mashie wielders were undefeated throughout the season. University of Iowa, Drake, East college of Des Moines, and Northwestern were on their schedule. The Cardinal golf team was beaten 22 to 2 at Ames and 12 to 5 in the home encounter, in the latter contest scoring more points than any other team against Iowa State.

Omaha's golf team won five, lost three, and tied one match during the 1933 season.

Among the old bound periodicals are Harper's, dated back to 1850, the North American Review, back to 1823, Blackwood's Magazine, Littell's Living Age, and the Edinburgh Review. A collection of French eighteenth and nineteenth century classics were given the Tabor college by the Vicarians, a French communistic society in Iowa. These volumes are among those that will be brought to the university.

The general books of the library are old and not a valuable part of the collection. There are some sources among them, however, according to Dr. Holt.

The books that will be added to the University library at once are the documents, periodicals, and other source material. The remainder of the volumes must be stored until enough room is provided to house them.

engaged in a mild job of remodeling, he said. We are refusing to follow the old plan which was to let deflation run its course and trust in the constitution, the republic, and God to pull us out.

Favors Money Stabilization

"If the Roosevelt program does not work out we shall probably see a drastic lowering in tariff walls," Dr. Irwin asserted. "If we can't raise the value of the farmer's dollar we will lower the value of the manufacturer's dollar by sweeping aside tariff walls."

The agriculture depression has been with us since 1921, he said.

Dr. Irwin favored immediate stabilization of money and the adoption of a monetary standard, preferably gold.

Dr. Edgar A. Holt, dean of arts college, introduced Dr. Irwin.

Publication Board Set Up 10 Years Ago; Composed Entirely Of Students

It was generally supposed that when the Board of Student Publications was set up at Municipal university last spring something new to the university was introduced. A glance through the 1922 year book shows that a publication board was in operation more than ten years ago. A publication board and a weekly edition of the Gateway made their appearance at the same time. The Gateway previously had been published but once a year in the form of a year book. The name Gateway was used for both the student newspaper and the year book for several years. Later the annual became known as the Omahan.

Determined Gateway's Policy

The Gateway was first published as a four column weekly but after a few issues it was changed to a five column paper. This is the same size as the present Gateway.

The publications board was composed of five students elected by the student body. Members of the board were: Kenneth Baker, Robert Jenkins, Grace Karges, Marion Fischer, and W. G. MacLean. They met once a month, at which time the editor and business manager of the Gateway submitted reports.

The board determined whether the Gateway was being managed in a sound, businesslike manner. The 1922 annual does not mention how the staff was chosen or what was done if the board was dissatisfied with either the editor or the business manager.

Students, Faculty On Present Board
Just how many years this publication board lasted we do not know. Previous to the present publication board the editor and the business manager of the Gateway were elected by the student body.

The board is now composed of three faculty members appointed by President Sealock, and two students elected by the student body. Members are: Glenn Cunningham, '34; Woodrow Tietzort, '35; Dr. V. Royce West, Dr. William D. MacLay, and Dr. Lyman Harris.

APPOINTED TO BOARD

Dr. Edgar A. Holt, dean of the college of arts and sciences, was elected to the board of directors of the Professional Men's club, Monday evening, December 11. Other faculty members who belong to the club are Dr. Wilfred Payne, Irwin A. Hammer, E. M. Hosman, and Dr. V. Royce West.
